Day One: Contrast 2 characters from your book. How are they different? Think about their personalities, relationships they have with others, their appearance, etc. Use details from the text to explain.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Two: Pick a place in your reading tonight where the author's word choice added meaning to the book. Write down that word or phrase and discuss the meaning of it to the story.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Three: How does the narrator or speaker's point of view impact how the events in the book are described to the reader?

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Four: Make a prediction about what will happen next in your book based off of evidence from the text. (I predict that _____ will happen next because in my book _____.)

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Five: Critique a decision that the author made about the plot while writing this book. (I like/dislike how the author_____ because _____.)

_____

_____

_____

Day One: Contrast 2 characters from your book. How are they different? Think about their personalities, relationships they have with others, their appearance, etc. Use details from the text to explain.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Two: Pick a place in your reading tonight where the author's word choice added meaning to the book. Write down that word or phrase and discuss the meaning of it to the story.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Three: How does the narrator or speaker's point of view impact how the events in the book are described to the reader?

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Four: Make a prediction about what will happen next in your book based off of evidence from the text. (I predict that _____ will happen next because in my book _____.)

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Five: Critique a decision that the author made about the plot while writing this book. (I like/dislike how the author_____ because _____.)

_____

_____

_____

Day One: Contrast 2 characters from your book. How are they different? Think about their personalities, relationships they have with others, their appearance, etc. Use details from the text to explain.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Two: Pick a place in your reading tonight where the author's word choice added meaning to the book. Write down that word or phrase and discuss the meaning of it to the story.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Three: How does the narrator or speaker's point of view impact how the events in the book are described to the reader?

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Four: Make a prediction about what will happen next in your book based off of evidence from the text. (I predict that _____ will happen next because in my book _____.)

_____

_____

_____

_____

Day Five: Critique a decision that the author made about the plot while writing this book. (I like/dislike how the author_____ because _____.)

_____

_____

_____