

Day One: Explain a part of your reading today. Use a quote from the text to support what you are explaining.

Day Two: Make an inference as you read tonight using evidence from the text. (I can infer that _____ because the text says _____.)

Day Three: Summarize your reading from tonight using only what happened in the text.

Day Four: What is a main idea of this text? Based on what you read tonight, how is this main idea supported by key details?

Day Five: Write down one word from your reading tonight that you are not sure about and look up the definition in the glossary or dictionary to find out what the word means.
